PLANTING MORE HOOGS.

Louisiana and Mississippi planters in the region about Natchez have decided to plant more hogs and less cotton, and a meat packing company is to establish a plant in Natchez to take care of the surplus hogs from the farms.

Mississippi and Louisiana planters have heretofore been in the habit of buying their pork and bacon in town instead of raising it on the farms and it has usually taken about all they got from the sale of their cotton to pay for the bread and meat bought from the grocer.

This was not good business policy at any time or under any circumstances and it is especially bad business policy now when bread and meat are so dear and the market price of cotton so uncertain. The establishment of a packing plant at Natchez will be an inducement for farmers in that surrounding country to raise more hogs, and if the farmers will greatly increase the hog raising industry it will be an inducement to the packers to establish additional plants or to enlarge their facilities for taking care of the surplus. There is money in hogs. There can be no question about that, because the demand exceeds the supply, and the market price is away up. No great amount of care is needed in raising hogs after the pigs are old enough to root for themselves.

In eight months after the litter they may be made ready for market at a comparatively small cost of finishing up. The skim milk, which has heretofore gone to waste, mixed with a little cornmeal in the proportion on one pound to 4 or 5 of milk makes an ideal feed for pigs, both before and immediately after weaning time. Grass, herbs and a peanut patch will do the remainder of the work except to finish them out during the last two or three weeks on corn, and they should weigh, say about October, 250 pounds, which, at 3 cents, would return to the farmer $20 a head. There is no probability that hog production will catch up with the demand for at least three years to come, and prices next fall will be as high as they are now. With an increased acreage and the outlook for a favorable season, the price of cotton will not be so high next season as this. Mississippi and Louisiana are to be congratulated on the very sensible idea of crop diversification which Texas is adopting, but not with the energy the situation demands.

If the farmers in Southwest Texas should emulate the example of those of Mississippi and Louisiana by going into the hog raising industry on such a large scale San Antonio would have little difficulty in securing the location of a packing plant which would furnish a market for all that could be supplied, and in the mean time the farmers would send their hogs in active demand both in the local market and from the packers at Port Worth and elsewhere.

The same amount of labor and expense involved in the growing and picking a bale of cotton would be sufficient for the raising of several hogs, and at $20 a head the return would be handsome—San Antonio Light.

ELIMINATING FRICTION.

Edison says one of the great problems yet to be solved is the elimination of friction. Friction takes up several billions of horse-power in the factories of the world every year that would otherwise go into the regular channels and grind corn and wheat or move spindles. Some progress along the line of reducing friction has been made. In fact, the world is giving a good deal of attention to friction now in its various phases.

When a man starts anywhere the time spent between the starting and arriving may be charged to friction. When one waits for a train that is late he may place in the ledger for the day fifteen golden minutes to the debit account of friction. When a wagon makes two miles an hour instead of eight because the road is bad the lost time may be charged to friction. By a thousand means men are striving to save this time and energy which is expended to reach the few moments when things are actually done.

If sufficient progress can be made and the benefits divided with some degree of fairness it may not require the 200 years Edison recently mentioned before the poorest man will have the comforts that only a rich man can enjoy now. There is friction to be eliminated in the operation of other than metal wheels—San Antonio Express.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Next to forgiving the hardest thing is to mean it.

We can't see the truth about ourselves; we won't listen to it from anybody else.

People who really have brains are the only ones willing to admit somebody else has.

Somewhere monthly falls reconcile one to the inevitable cemetery, where the postman delivers no mail.

A man feels a grievance either because he has nothing worth taxing or because he has and must pay taxes on it.

If there's any paying visits in heaven it will take a good deal of the edge off it.

An extra clever thing about a widow is she has yet to learn anything about men.

A woman can stand having white hair, but she's insulted if you assume that it's from age.

There's a certain kind of man who thinks he has nothing worth taxing or because he has and must pay taxes on it.

If there's any paying visits in heaven it will take a good deal of the edge off it.

If the city paves a street or does anything else to make it look better, it won't be long until every resident on that street is doing something to make his own premises look better.

All beautifying work is contagious. If one man improves the appearance of his premises, he makes his neighbor's premises look worse, and that neighbor who before was indifferent is apt to be moved by a sense of shame to do some work on his own account.

Neighbor this influence neighbor, and the city influences both. It will probably be found that every dollar of money and every ounce of energy the city spends in this way will be duplicated by individual expenditures.—Dallas News.

Greet the stranger within your gates with a pleasant smile and welcome look. A town never loses anything by extending the glad hand and royal welcome to the deserving stranger. Hospitality is a priceless thing, but it costs very little.

Take the sunshine sent into your life as something to be grateful for; don't darken it with shadows of your own making.

A Valuable Booklet Free.

Every person who calls at French & Moore's drug store will be given a little booklet written by an eminent authority. Every family has one or more persons who have eczema, pimples, dandruff, ring worm, tetter, prickly heat, hives or some form of skin or scalp disease. This booklet is written in such a plain, simple manner that any person after perusal of it can tell what is the matter with them and can at once proceed to get a simple home treatment that will destroy the germ life that causes the disease, and in this way effect a complete cure of any form of skin or scalp disease.

The Lash of a Fiend

There have been about as welcome to A. Cooper, of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-slitting cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was most troublesome at night," he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me completely. I never coughed at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for asthmalic coughs, catarrh, croup, whooping cough, lung, laryngitis, pneumonia, hemorrhage, cramp, whooping cough, or hay fever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. A trial convinces. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. It is positively guaranteed by all druggists.

To the Public.

There seems to be an idea out that Mr. Kerbow caught and developed the mailbox in my shop. I will say in justice to both Mr. Kerbow and myself that he was sick with grip and out of the shop for over a week when he developed mailboxes.

Give Home Preference.

Why send off to have your Spring clothes made when you can get them made right here at home by Fred Berke's just as cheap and you can see them while they are being made and there is no chance of your suit being made wrong or out of style. Clothes cleaned, repaired and pressed. The same prompt attention is given to ladies clothing.

Good health is impossible when there is any derangement of the digestive organs. Foley's Orino Laxative is a natural remedy for stomach, liver and bowel troubles. It aids digestion, stimulates the liver, and cures habitual constipation. C. W. Gee.

Medicines that aid nature are always most successful. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by McLaughlin Bros. and all druggists.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear
If the Advice of This Greenville Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidney's fault. Backache is really kidney ache. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Greenville women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. L. Hayman, 412 W. Lee St., Greenville, Texas, says: "For nearly two years I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint. There was a dull, throbbing ache across the small of my back which kept me in misery and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage. Headaches were common and until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Ford & Pennington's Drug Store, I could not get relief. They not only removed the backache but corrected the difficulty with the kidney secretions and improved my health. Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly a good kidney remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
